Stars Shine Bright During Bannister X-Mas Season

Hush, there! Listen close. There's a special kind of magic in the air. It's more than just the rosey faces and peppermint smiles. More, even, than the wide eyes and infectious grins of the tiny children. Maybe it's because the stars always seem to shine a little brighter this time of year, showering the land with Christmas magic.

And nowhere will the stars be brighter or the magic more magnificent than at Bannister Mall, 1-435 and Bannister Rd. Kansas City's newest shopping mall has an entire world of stars to greet you this Christmas.

To begin with, more than 60 stores await your shopping pleasure with elegant gifts of all shapes and sizes. Nearly a dozen new stores have opened since the Mall's grand opening last August, each a star in its own right, and they have a special kind of magic to offer. Just follow the trail of stars through this special Bannister Mall section and find out the magic which lies in store ahead of you.

And what Christmas would be complete without Santa Claus. You'll find our North Pole friend awaiting you in the lower mall area. Look for Santa and his elves at the toy block palace in the peppermint forest just in front of Macy's. Rumor has it that he brought a whole sleigh filled with toys for good boys and girls both big and small. (The elves, we hear, have been working overtime again this year!)

But, oh, yes, here's the best part. Santa's got some very special visitors this year. It's the whole gang from Sesame Street waiting to point your way through all of the stellar shopping adventures ahead.

There's the fully animated Cookie Monster, caught in the midst of a never ending tussle with Oscar the Grouch over a bag of Christmas goodies. But even Oscar has put on a smile for the Christmas season as he pops up from his favorite trash can. And Bert and Ernie are there, too, up to their same delightful antics.

In fact, the whole mall has taken on a festive air. Large, colorful banners depicting Sesame Street characters hang throughout the mall, adding to the excitement for both young and old. And there's enough candy cane—big and small—to turn even the Cookie Monster's hungry eyes.

And for moms and dads, the merchants have gotten into the holiday spirit by offering special sales on your favorite Christmas gifts. Take your time and browse through your favorite store. You'll find everything your heart—and the hearts close to you—could ever want for the merriest of Christmases.

Oscar the Grouch pops up to say "Welcome" to Bannister Mall shoppers.

Taco Express-o

Taco on the go, that's the name of the game at the Taco Factory, located in the Terrace Food Shops, on the second level of Bannister Mall.

But fast doesn't mean second rate at the Taco Factory. There's no skimping here, says Jerry Hayse, area supervisor for the Taco Factory.

"We've got an outstanding product and fast friendly service," Hayse points out.

And you can't beat the price. Tacos begin at just 62 cents each. A Taco Trio, which includes an order of refried beans and three tacos on a platter, costs just a $1.69.

Enchiladas, a longtime Mexican favorite, come garnished with lettuce, tomato, and black olive slices for the budget-saving price of just $1.69.

And don't forget to top off your Mexican food adventure with the house specialty—freshly squeezed lemonade, just right for a quick lunch break that both tasty and inexpensive.

Express Yourself

Tired of the same old shirt? Be brave, adventuresome. Put yourself out front in shirtware from The Shirt Man at Bannister Mall.

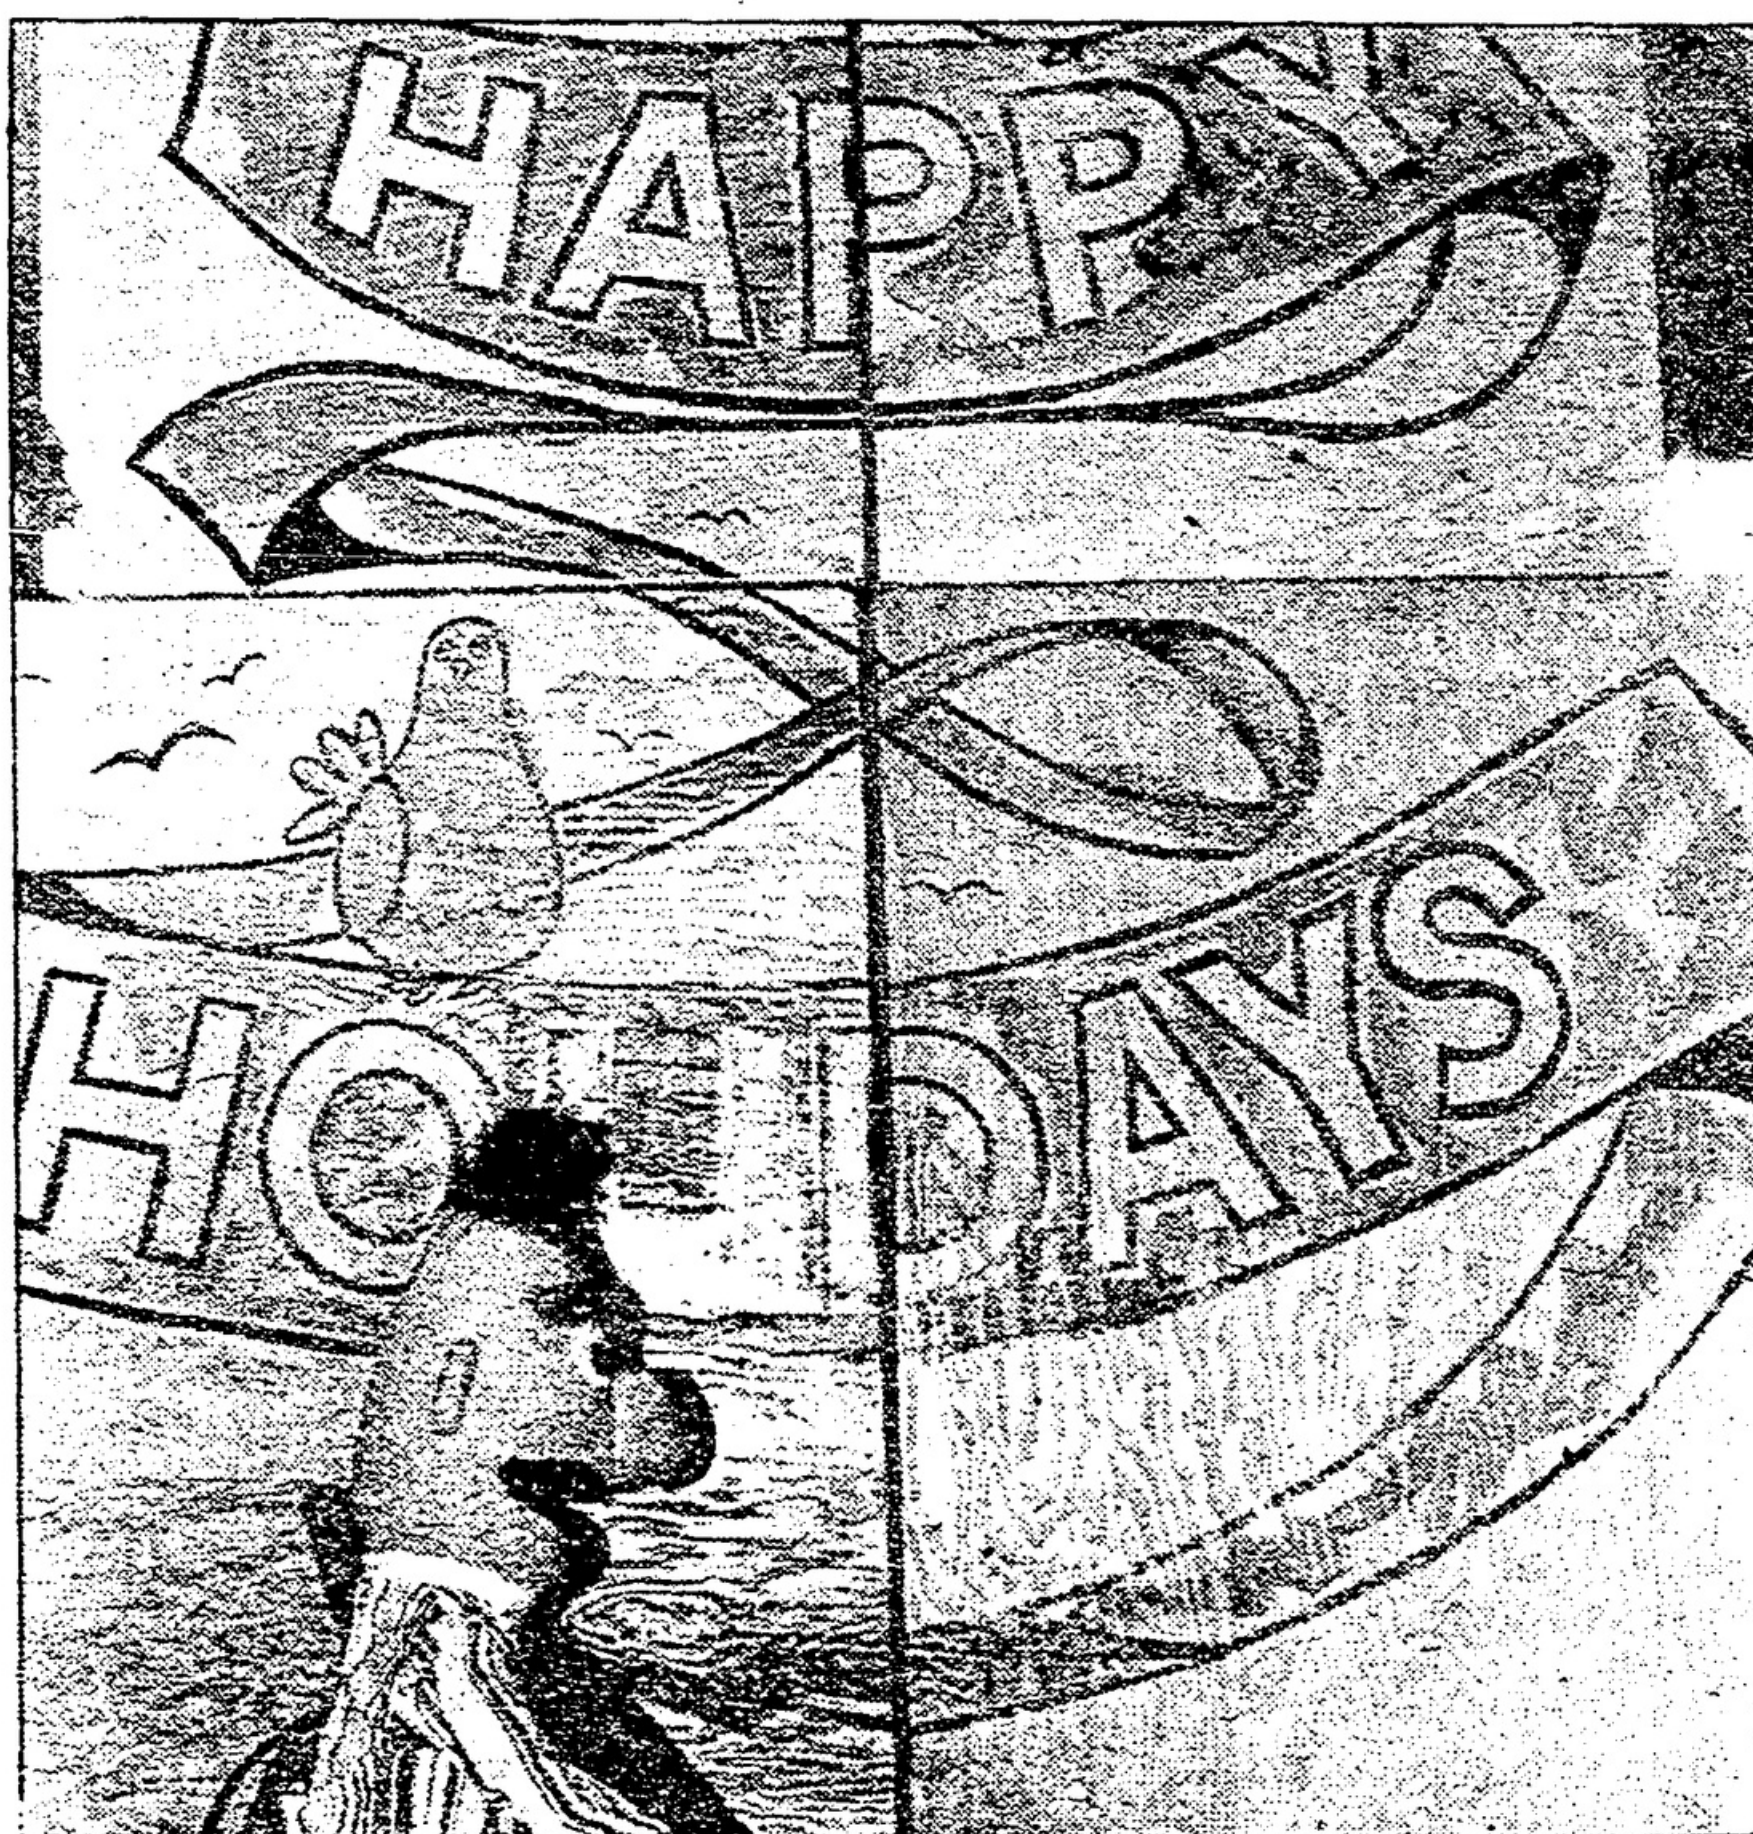

With more than 200 transfer designs, The Shirt Man can say what you want to say any way, style or color you want to say it. From a simple name to the most complicated of original multicolored designs, The Shirt Man can get your message out of your head and on to your back.

"A year ago we were rated among the top four T-shirt stores in the country by 'Impressions' magazine," points out Rodney Stean, store manager.

And the reason is style and selection. The Shirt Man stocks not only T-shirts in sizes for children through adult, but also sports jerseys, sweat shirts, and ladies' fashion tops. Prices start at just $3.49 for children's sizes, and $5.99 for adults. All transfer designs are $1.99 each.

The Shirt Man can also handle your custom design needs with quality silk-screening and lettering.

Music Men

Music is more than just time, talent and training. It takes machines to make it—and that's just what Jenkins Music specializes in: pianos and organs that make your kind of music.

Heading the list of fine quality instruments at Jenkins are names like Steinway, Everett, Yamaha, Currier, and Sohmer pianos; and Hammond and Yamaha organs.

"Our store is a combination of two things," says Jenkins owner Hal Cowan, "professional sales people who are devoting their entire career to selling organs and pianos. And the second thing is education. We teach buyers how to play it the right way. And our people are trained not only in our brands, but in our competitors, too."

And the service doesn't stop with the sale for the Jenkins' music men. There is also a full schedule of day and evening classes and lessons to teach both beginners and more experienced musicians the technique of playing keyboard instruments. A series of free concerts is also tuning up at the store, featuring a variety of professional musicians.

The store also plans to offer a series of classes teaching how to set up and operate any organ, regardless of brand, which will be free and open to the public.

In addition to the sales of new instruments, Jenkins also stocks a number of used pianos and organs which have been taken in on trade, as well as complete repair facilities.

"We do a lot of trade-ins," says Cowan. "We probably offer one of the widest selections of used pianos and organs in the Midwest. This also gives us a chance for a side by side comparison with our own products."

Jenkins also handles a selection of musical accessories ranging from metronomes to bench pads and sheet music.

Piece-A-Pizza

Any way you slice it, there's no pizza quite like original, old fashioned pizza—original Sicilian-style pizza, that is. And you can slice it any way you like it at the Original Pizza, located in the Terrace Food Shops at Bannister Mall.

Pizza by the slice or an entire deep-dish, New York style Sicilian pizza is the specialty of the house at Original Pizza. Choose any topping for your pizza and order up—it's just a dollar a slice. Each additional topping is just 25 cents more. Or you can mix and match toppings. Any way you like it.

If one isn't enough, an entire 16-inch pan of deep-dish New York pizza with a single topping starts at a nominal $6.95. For those who like their pizza every which way, the New York Special, which includes beef, sausage, mushroom, green pepper and onion toppings, is available for $8.95.

Original Pizza also serves a variety of hot and cold sandwiches to tempt your taste buds. The specialty of the house is the calzone, a combination of ricotta and mozzarella cheeses with ham for $1.25. Or try the meatball sandwich with carefully simmered, home-made sauce (an old family recipe) for $1.50. Another hot and tasty treat is their sausage sandwich, also $1.50, or the sausage and green pepper combination for just $1.80. There's also hogie's and ham and cheese for those who prefer good, old American favorites.

Feeling tired after a day of rounding up those last minute Christmas presents? Then mosey on in to Annie's Santa Fe and let one of Annie's waitresses rustle you up some of their south of border Mexican fixin's just like the good ol' days.

Try on a heaping plate of Hot Burritos from Annie's kitchen for just $4.25. The feast will include an order of Spanish rice on the side.

Or, if that isn't enough, there's always La Fiesta Grande, mild Chiles Reileno stuffed with cheese and fried in a light egg batter, to quiet that growling stomach. And there's Spanish rice here, too, for just $4.25.

There are also half a dozen other entrees ranging from the green and leafy Annie's Salad to the Conquistador and the Chimichanga Florentine. Prices for dinner range from an inexpensive $4.25 to $7.75 for Steak and Cheese 'n Onion Enchiladas.

House of Cards

Nothing says lovin' like the time and caring necessary to select just the 'right' greeting card. And when it comes to quality and selection, look no further than the house that cards built, Ferrel's Hallmark shop on the upper level of Bannister Mall.

And if the dust has got your throat drier than a cactus patch, there are plenty of frozen margaritas to put the freeze to those dusty pipes. By the pitcher or by the glass ($6.75 and $2.50 respectively), Annie's "grrrr-itas" will put the tiger back in your tank.

After a little food and libation, if you feel like a little bit of the ol' two-step, you can swing the reel with your favorite partner in Annie's spacious lounge. A live DJ spins records seven nights a week, and there's a special Happy Hour Wednesday and Thursday evenings between 11 p.m. and midnight to add spice to your life.

That Annie, she's one spicy lady.

Cards

Packed into more than 2,600 square feet of space are nearly 2,000 different styles of everyday and seasonal greeting cards, as well as a surprising variety of quality gift items like Baldwin brass and Schmid gift wares. In addition, the store also stocks a large selection of candles and candle accessories from Lenox and Carolina.

"The guiding philosophy of our business is this: quality," explains Wynn Ferrel. "We have quality people offering quality merchandise. We can offer our customers service when they come to our store."

And service is nothing new for Ferrel's shop. It has been the hallmark, so to speak, of the business since the first Ferrel card shop opened more than three years ago. Since that day, Ferrel and his three brothers and parents have continued to operate their stores with that same dedication to selection, quality and service.
